AIRSTAGE

Like a champion braving the cold, Fujitsu AIRSTAGE heat pumps deliver unwavering performance that won't quit, no matter what the temperature.

When facing off against extreme temps, our heat pumps deliver a power-play of innovation, performance and reliability. Thanks to advanced engineering, our systems consistently deliver best-in-class heating performance in subzero temperatures. Plus, no matter how cold it gets, they won't shut off. Unlike other heat pumps, our proprietary refrigerant system has no lockout temperature in heating mode, so your customers get all-star performance, year-round.

For performance and reliability in subzero temps... the edge goes to AIRSTAGE.
